Pearl Award finalists Quint Randle (left) and Jeff Hinton (right), Joshua Creek, have been writing together for nearly six years and have numerous songs published by Nashville- and L.A.-based publishers. During this time they've garnered movie soundtrack credits and cuts by other inspirational artists, including the No. 1 "I Love You Son" for Christian country artist Jackie Cox. In 2004 they received an honorable mention for "Everything I Need" in the Nashville Song Search contest. Their debut Joshua Creek CD was named First Runner Up for Album of the Month by Powersource Magazine (Country superstar Alan Jackson received the top honors).
